National Geographic Television International signs new deals in the run up to MIPCOM

Published: 7 October 2004

Newly rebranded National Geographic Television International (NGTI) gets off to a great start at MIPCOM 2004, with early deals for some of its key shows launching at the market.

Blue-chip wildlife show PREDATORS AT WAR (2 x 52 Mins) has been pre-sold to Five in the UK. PREDATORS AT WAR, a National Geographic Television & Film production, follows Africa's five mega-predators – lion, leopard, hyena, cheetah and wild dog - as they struggle for survival in a cruel season of deprivation on South Africa's Mala Mala Reserve. High-intensity, ground-breaking imagery; brilliant, surrealistic editing; spectacular natural history; modern military-style graphics and compelling animation, plus a dark, cinematic approach and innovative storytelling techniques, are the hallmarks of this exciting new production.
